[Associated Press Special Service to the Star-Bulletin]

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 7.—"Chief" Bender, Philadelphia's famous Indian pitcher, and Connie Mack's "100,000 infield" were responsible today for the downfall of the fighting New York Giants and for the first victory of the world's series. Score: Philadelphia 6, New York 4.

The Indians' steady pitching, coupled with the remarkable hitting power of the Philadelphia infield, disorganized the attack of the Giants and baffled their desperate efforts to win. Schang, the youngster picked up by Connie Mack as a catcher, also played a prominent part in the Philadelphia victory, catching a fine game and driving out a long three-base hit.

In an effort to stem the tide of hitting, Manager McGraw of New York sent in Crandall to relieve "Rube" Marquard, and Tesreau to relieve Crandall. Marquard, the star left-hander, was hard hit and the changes did not turn the tide.

Both teams played a steady fielding game, the Athletics making only one error and the Giants none. In hitting the teams were a stand-off, except that the Athletics batted much harder and at more timely points in the contest.

The power of the Athletics' hitting is shown by the fact that Barry got a double, McInnis a double, Collins and Schang triples and Baker a home run. Burns, New York's young outfielder, got a double also, but "Chief" Bender generally kept the safeties well-stated.

A crowd of 40,000 people saw the game, one of the largest baseball audiences ever assembled in New York. The weather was misty and it rained somewhat in the eighth and ninth innings.

The game was full of thrills. New York had scored one in the third. In the fourth Eddie Collins tripled and Baker singled, scoring Collins. Again in the fifth, Eddie Murphy went out on a bunt and Oldring was out at first but Collins waited, walked to first, stole second and then Frank Baker scored Collins and himself with a mighty home-run swing.

PICKING THE WINNER
(Baker got a home run in the opening game today.)

Talk about prophecy! Here is what Grantland Rice, the noted sporting writer, says in the last number of Collier's about the world's series:

I thought of Matty's master brain
Plus master arm and all the rest;
I thought of Marquard's yearly reign
That stood before the slugging test;
I thought of Tesreau, Human Whale,
Of John McGraw's eternal science—
And then I gathered up my kale
And started out to back the Giants.

I thought of Fletcher reaching out
To snag a base-hit from the air;
I thought of Merkle's mighty clout
Beyond Rube Oldring's distant lair;
And then—within a sudden lull,
Of Baker with the bases full—
And then I thought I wouldn't bet!

STAR HITTERS AND THEIR VICTIM

HAWAII MAY EXHIBIT AT PANAMA FAIR

Promotion Committee Advised of Particulars of Exposition at Isthmus Republic

That Honolulu may exhibit at the exposition which is to be held in Panama the latter part of December, 1914, was the statement made this morning by the secretary of the Promotion Committee. A short time ago he wrote to A. C. Snyder, the American consul-general in the canal zone, asking for information regarding the fair. The letter was referred to R. F. Acevedo, minister of public works of the republic of Panama. The answer which Acevedo made to Snyder was forwarded, arriving here this morning. It follows:

"I have read with great interest and attention your letter in which you refer to the exhibitions which the Hawaii Promotion Committee intends to give at our national exposition. In reply, I would inform you that if the concurrence of the committee in our exposition should be of an official character, it would have to be directed by the government of the United States, which the Panamanian government has cordially invited, and whose answer we hope will reach us soon. If the Hawaii Promotion Committee desires to make a private exhibit for the propaganda of local interests, we would take great pleasure in offering it the necessary space in the exposition grounds, the rental value of which I will make known to you as soon as the topographical works and division into lots may be finished.

"I desire to further inform you that the Hawaii Promotion Committee as well as all North American exhibitors will meet on the part of the government of Panama and especially the ministry in my charge with the most cordial reception and all possible facilities in order to enable them to figure worthily in our national exposition."

HONOLULANS IN FIJI DESCRIBE SOUTH SEA LIFE

A. H. Ford Right in His Element with Organization of New Promotion Bureau

BY A. H. FORD AND JOSEPH STICKNEY
Suva, Fiji, once produced a Duke Kahanamoku, someone remarked to me as the Niagara anchored off Suva at 8:30 on the morning of the eighth day out from Honolulu. The outrigger canoes came from every direction. They are quite unlike the ones we have in Hawaii.

The principal difference is in the outrigger. The Fijian outrigger is of much more real value to the canoe than are the Hawaiian outriggers. They steady the canoe a great deal more and you may lean away over to one side or even stand on the platform across the top of the canoe and

LORD-YOUNG TO COMPLETE BREAKWATER

Big Federal Job at Hilo To Be Handled Now by Local Firm

PHILADELPHIANS, AFTER LOSING TRIAL, GIVE UP

Ed Lord, Now on Mainland, Comes to Terms with Original Contractors

One of the most important deals in years involving federal work in the islands was made yesterday in New York City when the Lord-Young Engineering Company of Honolulu and the Breakwater Company of Philadelphia reached an agreement whereby the Lord-Young Company takes over the construction of the Hilo breakwater.

News of the deal reached Honolulu yesterday afternoon in a cablegram from Ed J. Lord, president of the company, to James L. Young, treasurer and manager. Mr. Lord has been in the east on business for several weeks, and within the last few days negotiations with the Breakwater Co. rapidly developed to the agreement.

Mr. Lord is in-Philadelphia today to close up the detailed arrangements, and will return to Honolulu within a short time.

The financial details of the deal by which the local company takes over the big federal construction job are not definitely known here, the cablegram yesterday containing only the statement that the agreement had been reached.

The history of the Hilo breakwater contract now to be handled by the Honolulu company is an involved one. The first section of the breakwater was built by D. E. Metzger. The Lord-Young Company built the second. The Breakwater Company of Philadelphia won the contract for the third section, underbidding the Lord-Young company by a small margin. The contract calls for the placing of some 220,000 tons of stone.

The Philadelphia concern's mishaps, misfortunes and alleged mismanagement of the work resulted in the elimination of Charles F. Wood, vice-president and the man who was the active figure in the local field. The company's affairs, so far as the Hilo contract is concerned, were reported to have been taken over by a trust company some time ago. Soon after D. E. Metzger, who was largely interested in the company's Hilo work, stepped out at his own insistence.

R. T. FRANCHISE IS NOT EXPECTED TO BE UP FOR ACTION DURING SESSION

Castle & Withington, for the Rapid Transit Company, have received a letter from their attorneys in Washington stating that in all probability congress will not consider the company's bill during the present session. It was stated that practically all the time of congress will be consumed with the currency bill. Another reason given as to why the franchise measure will not be taken up now is that no committee has been appointed to report on it. L. Tenney Peck, president of the company, who went to Washington some time ago partly in the interests of the bill, is now believed to be in Boston, the convention of bankers having called him there.

Unless a new governor is appointed and confirmed before the latter part of next month, Governor Frear will be able to attend the Fifth National Conservation Congress as Hawaii's personal representative. An invitation to attend the meetings arrived from Washington this morning in the governor's mail. The Congress is to be held at the national capital November 13, 19 and 20.

HUMBURG SEES NO REASON FOR BAD BUSINESS

Cooperation and Close Economy Advocated by Hackfeld Representative

CONFIDENT PROBLEM WILL BE SOLVED HERE IN HAWAII

Businessman Returns to Honolulu Preaching Optimism in Face of Free Trade

Co-operation among the plantations, and close economy in producing and marketing, are the two suggestions J. F. Humburg, a director of Hackfeld & Company, and manager of the New York branch of that firm, who arrived by the liner Mongolia this morning, offers as a way by which Hawaii may successfully face the reduction in the sugar tariff.

When he arrived this morning, he was met at the wharf by many members of the firm, as well as by a score or more of his Honolulu friends. He spent an hour in a conference with J. F. Hackfeld, president of the company, and later was interviewed by a representative of the Star-Bulletin.

He does not see a good reason for a business depression here. He says that the tariff bill has made it necessary for greater economy to be shown in all lines, but gives it as his opinion that with strict economy and co-operation among the plantations to the end that the most efficient methods may be used for the cultivation of the cane, its milling and marketing, the situation can be successfully coped with.

"We should not be gloomy," he said. "There is no occasion for it. If we get down to work, all pulling together for the common good, saving wherever saving is possible, we will come out with flying colors."

"We are not going to the devil here by a long way. Over the country there are voiced protests against the radical cuts in the tariff, which are called both unwise and unfair, as the bill removes the duty from one product and lets it remain on another. Still, I feel that we here in Hawaii will be able to work the problem out."

"Hard times have hit us before, and we have had grave difficulties to overcome, and we have overcome them successfully. I feel that we will be able to do the same thing in this case."

Humburg plans to remain here a number of weeks. He will visit, he says, the different islands.

ALOHA PLANNED FOR RETURNING BASEBALL TEAMS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The All-Chinese and All-Hawaiian baseball teams are sailing for home today on the Sierra. Everybody happy and ready to quit the road.

SING HUNG HOE.

With the two baseball clubs that have been touring the mainland now started on the last lap of the homeward journey, it is up to Honolulu fans to think up an appropriate reception, and give the men of both teams, who have done so much good publicity work for Hawaii, a royal welcome home.

The All-Chinese team is returning from its second mainland tour, and for the last six months the players have been traveling from one end of the continent to the other, playing games in all the big centers, and meeting with extraordinary success. The team has won a large percentage of its games, and has trimmed almost every college nine that it has faced. The tour last year was financially a failure, and the loss was sustained entirely by the Chinese merchants here who backed the venture. This year, it is understood, the tour has been made to pay. On both occasions and especially on their second visit to the mainland, the Chinese players have been able to do a great deal of valuable publicity work for Hawaii.

The All-Hawaiian team crossed the ocean a few months ago to play throughout the Middle West, and besides disporting themselves on the diamond, the players "doubled" in a Hawaiian musical program, which was preceded by an illustrated lecture on the islands. This gave Hawaii a great deal of publicity in places where the islands are but little known.

Plans are now on foot to welcome the Chinese and Hawaiians home, not only as successful athletic organizations, but also as successful publicity men, who have given Hawaii a world of boosting, and deserve some public recognition for the same.

TWO GIRLS KILLED BY AN AVIATOR

Lincoln Beachey, Daring Birdman, Swoops Too Low and Dashes Into Crowd

[Associated Press Cable]
HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Lincoln Beachey, the noted daredevil aviator, dared death once too often today, but he himself was not the victim. He made a flight high in the air in the presence of a large crowd here and then suddenly swept toward the earth. He swooped too low and his aeroplanes dashed into the crowd. Two girls were struck and one of them, Ruth Hildreth, killed. Her sister Helen was fatally injured.

500 PEOPLE OF NOME HOMELESS FROM BIG STORM

[Associated Press Cable]
NOME, Alaska, Oct. 7.—Five hundred people are homeless as a result of the storm that has devastated Nome. Three bodies have been washed ashore, mute evidence of the storm. Three steamships are anchored safely not far from the shore and seven are standing outside away from land. The storm is abating.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC HITS FIJI VERY HARD

By the Makura, which arrived in Honolulu this morning, the Star-Bulletin received considerable information regarding the small-pox epidemic which has been bothering Fiji for some time past. While it is believed that the worse of the trouble now is over, the conditions are far from satisfactory. In tomorrow's issue full details of conditions at the present time will be given.
